Definitions

- "Error" is a mistake, misprint, misinterpretation, mishearing, misreading, mistranslation, spelling mistake, technical hazard, registration error, transaction error, manifest error, force majeure, and/or similar. Examples of errors include, but are not limited to:
  - Bets accepted during technical problems that otherwise would not have been accepted
  - Bets placed on events/offers that have already started or been decided
  - Bets on markets containing incorrect participants
  - Bets placed at odds that are materially different from those available in the general market at the time the bet was placed
  - Bets offered at odds that reflect an incorrect score situation; or
  - Odds being clearly incorrect given the chance of the event occurring at the time the bet was placed
- "Influence Betting" is an act, prohibited by the operator, where a player, or parties acting in association with a player, can influence the outcome of a match or an event, directly or indirectly.
- "Syndicate Betting" is an act, prohibited by the operator, where players act together to place a series of bets on the same event or competition. Where there is evidence of players acting together in this manner, the operator reserves the right to make the relevant bets void and/or withhold payment of returns, pending the outcome of subsequent investigations.

Bet Acceptance

- Unless accepted in error, once accepted, a bet will remain valid and cannot be withdrawn. It is the responsibility of the player to ensure details of the bets placed are correct.
- Should a dispute arise about the acceptance (or lack thereof) of any transaction in the player's account, the transaction log database will be the ultimate authority in deciding such matters.

Betting & Payout Limitation

- The operator reserves the right to limit the net payout (the payout after the stake has been deducted) on any bet or combination of bets by reducing the amount the player is permitted to place on the wager. This limit may be lower depending on the specific sport, league, and type of bet offer.
- All bet selections are subject to pre-imposed limits set solely at the operator's discretion, which may be lower than the limits mentioned in the House Rules. Should this limit be reached, the player has the right to ask to exceed the limit by means of a request effected through the operator's Sportsbook platform. The operator reserves the right to accept (fully or partially) or reject the request without any prior notice and further explanation.
- The operator reserves the right to decline, solely at its own discretion, all, or part of, any bet requested. This includes the possibility that a wager, such as a Round Robin, as defined herein is not accepted in full, either in terms of stakes or combinations included in said Round Robin.
- All bets placed through the operator's Sportsbook platform, including bets requesting manual approval, may be subject to a time delay prior to acceptance, the length of which may vary. Such delay is to be determined by the operator at its sole discretion.
- The operator reserves the right, upon approval from TGA, to withhold payment and/or to declare bets void on an event (or series of events), if there is sufficient evidence that any of the following has occurred:
  - The integrity of the event has been called into question.
  - The price(s) or pool has been manipulated.
  - Match-rigging has taken place, or the match is under investigation for such. Evidence of the above may be based on the size, volume, or pattern of bets placed with the operator across any or all of its betting channels, as well as information received from other betting providers or officially recognized organizations.
- All odds offered are subject to variation. Such fluctuation is determined solely at the operator's discretion. Bets are accepted only at the odds available in the betting grid at the time the bet was accepted by the operator, irrespective of any other claim or previous publication present on the website or any other media detailing otherwise.
- All payout calculations when settling bets will be done based on decimal odds, irrespective of any other format displayed/chosen at time of bet placement.

Cancellation Of Bets

- Bets that are declared cancelled, void, or no action as outlined will be refunded with Management discretion.
- Parlay or accumulative bets will remain valid with recalculated odds in the event that a match or portion of the event that is part of the parlay/accumulative bet is considered cancelled, void, or no action. This does not include parlays or accumulative bets that are offered at boosted odds. If all events within the parlay are cancelled, void, or no action, the wager will be declared void in its entirety.
- The operator reserves the right to declare a wager void if it is obvious that any of the following circumstances have occurred:
  - Bets offered, placed, and/or accepted due to an error
  - Bets placed while the system was encountering technical problems that would otherwise not have been accepted
  - Influence Betting
  - Syndicate Betting
  - A result affected by criminal actions — directly or indirectly
  - A public announcement occurred in relation to the bet which significantly alters the odds
  - Pre-match Betting
    - Betting effected after the event has started
    - Betting effected after a related event was underway and where conditions could have been altered in a direct and indisputable way
  - Live Betting
    - Betting effected at incorrect price due to delayed or failing live coverage
    - Betting effected on particular offers after these have occurred, or else after an event, which could normally be deemed as leading to the outcome, has happened or is happening (e.g., bets placed on offers such as total goals scored or next goal while a penalty is being taken or has been awarded)
    - Betting effected on odds which represented a different score than the actual
- A bet made as a parlay or accumulative bet must never include two or more offers in which the outcomes might turn out to be related (e.g., Team X to become champions and Player Y to be top goal scorer in the same league). Although the operator takes all necessary steps to prevent such possibilities, in the eventuality that this would happen, the operator reserves the right, solely at its own discretion, to declare void all parts of the parlay/accumulative bet that include the correlated outcomes.

- Bets can be voided regardless of whether the event has been settled or not.

- Fights must take place within one week of the listed date of the fight or the event will be graded "no action." Venue changes within the same country will not affect the status of pending wagers on the event. Venue changes to a different country will result in a grade of "no action" on all pending wagers for the event.
- If a fight weight class for an event is changed for any reason, there will be no effect on any pending wager status. No wager will be voided based on a weight class change for an event.
- If the scheduled rounds in a fight or event are changed or incorrectly posted, only the money line to win the fight will be "action." Any other wagers on the event, including fight totals, fight propositions, exact round ending, fighter to win inside distance, win by decision, and goes-distance propositions, will be "no action."
- Unless otherwise stated, the ring announcer will announce the elapsed time of any uncompleted round.
- If the fight ends exactly at half a round, it will be graded as over.
- Event results will be graded/re-graded based on the official result at ringside. An event result may be revised or altered after initial presentation by the ring announcer. Event results are not official for wagering purposes until verified by the officials of at the event venue. The overturning of a fight decision by an official or unofficial sanctioning body, based on appeal, suspension, lawsuit, drug testing result, or any other fighter sanction, will not be recognized for wagering purposes.

- Any fight that is deemed "no contest" or "no decision" will have all wagers refunded.
- A wager on a fighter winning in a specific round is a loser if the fight goes the "complete distance."
- A fighter wins by "unanimous decision" when all three judges score that fighter as the winner.
- A fighter wins by "split-decision" when two judges score that fighter as the winner and one judge scores the other fighter as the winner.
- A fighter wins by "majority decision" when two judges score that fighter as the winner and one judge scores the fight a draw.
- A fight is a "unanimous draw" when all three judges score the fight as a draw. In such event, all wagers will be refunded.
- A fight is a "split-decision draw" when one judge scores the fight a draw, one judge scores the fight for one fighter, and one judge scores the fight for the other fighter. In such event, all wagers will be refunded.
- A fight is a "majority draw" when two judges score the fight a draw and one judge score the fight for either of the two fighters. In such event, all wagers will be refunded.

In total wagering, if a fighter does not answer the bell to start a round where the fight has gone the exact distance listed on the total, the "under" is the winner.

- If golfers listed in the match-up are involved in a three-way (or more) playoff, either player involved must win the playoff to win that match-up or wagers are deemed "no action."
- If a golfer withdraws before the start of a tournament, all future bets will be action unless otherwise specified. Tournament Group Betting

Tournament Group Betting

- Winning bets must select the player who achieves the highest tournament placing from a selected group.
- In the event of any player in the groups not teeing off, bets will be refunded.
- Players missing the cut will be eliminated unless all of the players in the group miss the cut. If this occurs, the lowest score at that stage will determine the winner.
- Dead heat rules apply if two or more players are tied at the end of the tournament, unless the result is determined by a playoff in which case the playoff winner is considered the group winner.

Tennis

- All future wagers on tennis are "action" regardless of if the player begins play.
- If there is a walkover, retirement, disqualification, or abandonment at any time after the start of the match, the player progressing to the next round will be deemed the winner.
- If a match is abandoned before the match has begun, all bets are "no action."
- A tennis match is deemed to have started with the first serve of the match.

Baseball

- Unless otherwise stated, bets on baseball are determined on the basis of the result after any eventual extra innings, and regardless of the number of innings played, as declared by the organizing association.
- A bet is declared cancelled on a cancelled or postponed match that has not started or in the case of a result not being issued within 12 hours of the scheduled start time.
- "Match" bets will be declared cancelled in case of a draw after the eventual extra innings. All other offers which could reasonably be settled (e.g., "over/under," "handicap," and "odd/even") will be settled according to the result after the extra innings.
- "Handicap," "over/under," and "odd/even" bets require all scheduled innings to be completed (or at least one half-inning less than the number of scheduled innings if the home team is in advantage) for bets to stand. This applies to all offers except those the outcome of which has been decided prior to the abandonment and could not possibly be changed regardless of future events. These will be settled according to the decided outcome.
- The name of the so-called starting pitcher has no relevance on how offers are settled.
- For settlement purposes, "first half" bets are deemed to be referring to the outcomes deriving from the first five innings. All five innings must be completed for bets to stand, except for those offers the outcome of which has been decided prior to the abandonment and could not possibly be changed regardless of future events, which will be settled according to the decided outcome. For games played under a scheduled, shortened format, the first half innings will be shortened accordingly. For example, "first half" bets in a seven-inning game refer to outcomes deriving from the first four innings.
- "Head-to-head" and "over/under" bets involving one or more players' performance in the match/event/tournament are considered valid given that all listed players take part in the match/event/tournament at some stage for bets to stand.
- All bets referring to aggregated tournament totals (such as runs, etc.) will be settled based on official statistics by the governing association. Unless otherwise stated, cumulative amounts of such bets will include eventual prolongations (e.g., extra innings).
- "Match" bets (aka Moneyline) require a minimum of five full innings to be played or at least 4.5 innings in case the team batting second is leading at that particular point.
- Bets on the outcome of a particular period (for example, inning X) or occurrences achieved during a time — limited period require the specified period to be completed with the exception of those offers, the outcome of which is already determined before any interruption and/or any further continuance of play could possibly produce a different outcome to said offers which will be settled accordingly.
- Unless specifically stated or implied in the offer characteristics, settlement of season bets will be based on the classifications, definitions, and tie-breaking rules on MLB.com or the official website of the competition (as applicable).
- All offers referring to player performances remain valid regardless of eventual player trades during any point in the season. Offers referring to individual player performances in a single match (such as total hits by Player X) or confronting performances from two individual players during the course of a match (such as which of Player X or Player Y will have the most hits), require all listed individuals to be active participants in the applicable match for bets to stand. Offers referring to individual player performances over a particular period (such as total runs scored Player X during the regular season) or confronting performances from two individual players during the course of the season (such as which of Player X or Player Y will score most runs during the regular season) require all listed individuals to be active participants in at least one more match applicable for the offer after bet acceptance for bets to stand.
- In the event that the All-Star game does not go into extra innings, but is decided by a Home Run Derby, the winner of the derby will have one run added to its score and this run will count towards the game total.
  - Example: If the score is 3-3 after nine innings. The team winning the Home Run Derby will win the game 4-3.

Football

- Games must be played on the date scheduled for "action," If a game is postponed or rescheduled for a later date, it will be deemed "no action."
- Overtime will not include wagers that specify specific halves or quarters.
- Wagers for all partial-game markets are valid upon completion of the specific period.
- Ties will be posted as a "refund,"
- For second-half football bets: For any bets in these markets, unless otherwise stated, overtime will not be counted when determining how bets are settled.
- Futures/Season Bets: NFL regular season win totals and match-ups are based on teams completing all 17 regular season games and for CFL all 18 regular season games, College football teams must play all scheduled regular season games for "action."

Basketball

- All games must be fully completed for full game basketball wagers to be "action". Pro must play a minimum of 43 minutes to be considered "completed", College must play a minimum of 35 minutes to be considered "completed".
- All first and second half, and quarter wagers must be played to their conclusion to be considered "action".
- Overtime is counted in the final score, unless otherwise specified.
- Unless odds are quotes for a tie, any market where the result is a wagering tie will be refunded.
- If a match starts on the scheduled start date and is not completed within in 24 hours it will be deemed "no action".

Bowling

- Bets placed on any players who subsequently withdraw from the tournament will be settled as losers
- If a tournament is delayed or postponed bets will stand as long as the event is re-organized within the same calendar year
- Winners will be determined by the rules of the PBA (www.pba.com) or official tournament organizer where appropriate
- Dead Heat rules apply
- All bets will be settled according to results from the official tournament organizer

Dead Heat Rules

- Unless stated otherwise in the specific sport rules, the Dead Heat rule applies to bets on market where there are more winners than expected.
- If a Dead Heat between two selections is declared on any event, half the stake is applied to the selection at full odds and the other half is lost. If more than two Dead Heats are declared, the stake is proportioned accordingly.
- In the event of a tie, if not otherwise stated as a push settlement and a "draw" option was not offered, wagers will be paid at face value of the ticket (total payout figure including the initial stake) divided by the number of competitors tied for that placing. The stake is proportioned according to the number of competitors tied for that placing.
Example: $100 placed on Phil Mickelson at +200 to finish in the top 10. If Mickelson ties with four other competitors for the 10th position, your wager will be calculated by dividing your $100 stake five times, as per the rules.

Popular Wagers

Parlay Bet - A parlay is a single bet that links two or more wagers. To win the bet, the player must win all the wagers in the parlay. If one wager is lost, the entire bet is lost. However, if all the wagers in the parlay are won, the player wins a higher payoff than if the bets had been placed separately.

Straight Bet - A straight bet is an individual wager on a game or event that will be determined by a point spread or money line.

Futures Bet - A futures bet is a wager placed on an event typically far in the future, such as which team will win next year's MLB World Series.

Proposition Bets - Proposition bets, otherwise known as prop bets, focus on the outcome of events within a given game. Props are often offered on marquee games of great interest. These include Sunday and Monday night NFL games, various high-profile college football games, including bowl or championship games. An example of a prop bet is "Which team will score the first touchdown?"

Teaser Bet - A teaser bet is a type of football or basketball wager in which the point spread is adjusted by additional points in the player's favor on more than one game. In football, a player may move the posted point spread 6, 6.5, 7, 10, or 14 points (10- and 14-point teaser ties lose). In basketball, 4-, 5-, and 6-point sports betting teasers are offered.

Round Robin Bet - A round robin bet is a series of parlays. For example, a three-team round robin consists of three two-team parlays (A + B, A + C, and B + C).

Point Spread

The most popular sports bets are based on the point spread. The point spread represents the margin of points in which the favored team must win the game by to "cover the spread." Bets on the point spread are usually offered at 11-to-10 odds. For example, a player must bet $11 to win $10 for a total payout of $21, or $110 to win $100.

Money Line Bet

The money line represents the odds of a team winning the game outright without the use of the point spread. The money line is expressed as a 3-digit number. For example, -150 means a player must bet $150 for every $100 they wish to win, $15 for every $10, and multiples thereof.

Off The-Board Payouts

- Straight bets pay 10-11 unless posted otherwise on printed media.
- In the event of a tie in a straight wager, the wager will be considered "no action" and will be refunded.
- All parlays are based on a true odds format. This is calculated by multiplying the decimal equivalent of each event by the amount wagered.
- A maximum payoff limit of 299-1 is paid on parlays "off the board." In the event of a tie or "no action," parlay is reduced to the next lower number of parlays. Acceptance of all parlays is at the discretion of Management.

Teams	Payouts
	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
6-Point Football Teaser	-130	+150	+250	+400	+600	+900	+1250
6.5-Point Football Teaser	-140	+140	+200	+350	+500	+800	+1100
7-Point Football Teaser	-150	+120	+180	+300	+425	+650	+900

Sports Betting Terminology

Action: A sports wager of any kind; a bet

Added game: A game not part of the typical menu of wagering offerings, often posted as an accommodation to players

Book: An establishment that accepts bets on the outcome of sporting events

Buy (Points): A player pays an additional price (lays more money) to receive a half-point or more in his favor on a point spread game

Chalk: The favorite

Cover: Winning by more than the point spread

Dime: A $1,000 sports wager

Dog: The team perceived to be most likely to lose; short for underdog

Favorite: The team considered most likely to win an event

First-half bet: A bet placed on the score in the first half of the game only

Free Bet: A free bet is a token with a number value, which a player can attach to a selection to place a bet. The difference between a bet placed with a free bet token and a regular bet is that with a free bet, the "stake" is not included in the winnings. Free bets are only given out per terms and conditions and for specific promotions. Free bets are available in select states

Future: Odds that are posted well in advance on the winner of major events, including the Pro Football Championship, the Pro Basketball Championship and the Pro Baseball Championship

Half-time bet: A bet placed on scoring in the second half of a game only

Handle: The total amount of bets taken

Hold: The percentage the house wins

Juice: The bookmaker's commission, most commonly the 11 to 10 bettors lay on straight point spread wagers; also known as "vigorous"

Laying the points/price: Betting the favorite by giving up points

Limit: The maximum amount accepted by the house before the odds and/or point spread are changed

Line: The current odds or point spread on a particular event

Longshot: A team perceived to be unlikely to win

Middle: To win both sides of a game; wagering on the underdog at one point spread and the favorite at a different point spread and winning both sides. For example, if the player bets the underdog +4 1/2 and the favorite -3 1/2 and the favorite wins by 4, the player has middled the book and won both bets

Money line: Odds expressed in terms of money. With money odds, whenever there is a minus (-), the player lays that amount to win $100; where there is a plus (+), the player wins that amount for every $100 wagered

Nickel: A $500 sports wager

No action: A wager in which no money is lost or won and the original bet amount is refunded

Off the board: A game in which no bets are being accepted

Opening line: The earliest line posted for a particular sporting event

Over: A sports bet in which the player wagers that the combined point total of two teams will be more than a specified total

Parlay: A single bet that links together two or more wagers; to win the bet, the player must win all the wagers in the parlay. If the player loses one wager, the player loses the entire bet. However, if they win all the wagers in the parlay, the player wins a higher payoff than if the player had placed the bets separately

Pick or pick 'em: A game when neither team is favored

Point spread: The margin of points in which the favored team must win by to "cover the spread"

Price: The odds or point spread

Prop (proposition) bet: A bet that focuses on the outcome of events within a given game. Props are often offered on marquee games of great interest. These include Sunday and Monday night professional football games, various high-profile college football games, major college bowl games, and playoff and championship games. An example of a prop bet is "Which team will score the first touchdown?"

Push: When the contest ends with no winner or loser for wagering purposes; a tie for wagering purposes

Round robin: A series of parlays

Teaser: A type of parlay in which the point spread or total of each individual play is adjusted and the price of moving the point spread (teasing) is lower payoff odds on winning wagers

Tie: A wager in which no money is lost or won because the teams' scores were equal to the number of points in the given point spread

Total: The combined number of runs, points, or goals scored by both teams during the game, including overtime
